POINT TAKEN: Ray Carey remonstrates against AXA representatives (foreground) at last week's meeting

■ BY ANNA WHITE

COUNCILLORS have unanimously rejected plans for Kent International Gateway (KIG) freight depot near Bearsted.

About 1,000 people packed into a warehouse at Maidstone Studios on Thursday evening to hear Maidstone council's planning committee come to a decision on proposals for a giant road-rail freight interchange.

After listening to residents, officers and MPs slam the plans for a 285-acre depot on open countryside between Bearsted and Hollingbourne during a heated four-and-a-half hour meeting, the councillors voted unanimously against KIG on all 18 grounds.

The depot was condemned for the effects it would have on the countryside, wildlife, traffic, pollution and archaeological heritage.

It was also seen as hindering the council's plans and ambitions for the future development of Maidstone.

Another key point was that the planning committee felt the evidence given during the meeting by Neil Henderson, a representative for applicant AXA Real Estate, did "not meet fundamental requirements for a strategic rail interchange".

The applicant had originally said KIG would attract 15 to 19 trains per day, but research carried out by experts appointed by the council showed it would only attract two to three trains and 6,000 vehicles per day.

Therefore the council felt the applicant's main argument that KIG would help stop climate change by reducing road freight did not

VACANCY: Vinters Park Crematorium is advertising the role of a cremation technician

Crematorium technician is a job to die for

■ BY EMILY HALL

IT'S up for grabs – but is this Britain's most macabre job?

Vinters Park Crematorium in Maidstone is looking for a £15,000-a-year cremation technician and chapel attendant, who can organise services and cremate corpses.

The 37-hour-a-week position might be thought of as creepy, but others say it's a massively fulfilling role for someone with the right qualities.

Tim Jefferson, Maidstone council's environmental facilities manager, said the new recruit would be joining a team of two other technicians.

He said: "These aren't macabre people who are depressed or creepy. They are mature, and that doesn't mean to say they are mature in age."

"They are very open and customer-facing people because they have to deal with the clergy, bereaved families and funeral directors."

"They work best behind the scenes, making sure that the funeral and cremation go to plan. They have to have an understanding and empathy, and a real pride in what they do."

The council claims the right person will "provide a sympathetic service to mourners and a support service."

The advert also gives assurance that the successful candidate will be given full training.

Mr Jefferson added: "The chapel attendant will ensure the chapel and its surrounding areas are prepared in readiness for the funeral service."

"When there is music played, the chapel attendant will be responsible for that, whether it's classical music or hip hop."

"After the service they will prepare for the cremation, instructing the other cremation technicians that the coffin can be taken to the crematory."

The role includes training on cremation and applicants will also be expected to scatter and bury ashes.

Applications for the position, which is advertised on www.jobsgopublic.co.uk – are welcome until this Friday.

yourmaidstone NEWS IN BRIEF

Appeal for witnesses to stabbing in town

A YOUNG man was taken to hospital after being stabbed during a night out in Maidstone town centre.

Police said the man, 20, from Maidstone, was taken to St Thomas' Hospital in London Bridge after he was stabbed with a sharp implement at about 11.30pm on Saturday, at the junction of St Faith's Street and Station Road.

The victim was yesterday described as in a comfortable condition.

Police are appealing for witnesses and are examining CCTV footage.

Anyone with information is asked to call officers on 01795 419182.

Phantom star to lead singing at Proms date

IT'S time to get the picnic baskets out as the Proms in the Park returns.

Phantom of the Opera star Jill Washington will get the crowd singing along and the audience will be able to watch performances of Rule Britannia, Jerusalem, and Land of Hope and Glory.

The annual free event is in Whatman Millennium Park on Saturday, May 23, from 4pm. The concert begins at 7.30pm.

Man in court after raid bid on jewellers

A MAN has been charged following an attempted robbery at a town centre jewellery store.

Stephen Almond, 43, of Melville Road, Maidstone, appeared at Maidstone Magistrates Court on Friday morning charged with robbery and possession of a firearm. He was remanded in custody to appear at crown court.

The court appearance followed a raid at Charmian Beaton Design Jewellers, in Pudding Lane, Maidstone, at 3.30pm on Wednesday.

Another man arrested in connection with the attempted robbery has been released on police bail.

Sub-human? Comedian has a change of heart

A STAND-UP comic who once labelled the people of Maidstone as "sub-human" has had a change of heart after a string of successful performances in the county town.

National newspaper The Independent dug up a comment made by comedian Mark Watson at the start of his career for a feature on up-and-coming comedy stars on Monday.

Mr Watson, 29, who is currently starring in TV adverts for Magners Pear Cider, said about the nightmare show: "I had a gig in Maidstone, Kent, very early on.

"The venue doesn't exist anymore – hopefully it burnt down. One doesn't like to generalise but, well, they were sub-human."

The Radio 4 comedian has also been recorded slamming the county town in the past, saying: "Everyone always seems to be really drunk and violent there."

But since he made the comments the comic has had a change of heart and has performed several successful gigs in the town, including one at the Hazlitt Arts Centre in January this year, with his All The Thoughts I've Had Since I Was Born tour.

Victoria Lepper, of Mr Watson's representatives Karushi Management, said: "This was a quote taken from very early on in Mark's career and after this first difficult gig. He's since performed to some great crowds in Maidstone."

Cllr Brian Moss, Maidstone council's cabinet member for leisure and culture, said: "We're not surprised he likes us now. He played to a packed audience last time he came to Maidstone."

■ BY ANNA WHITE

"The Hazlitt Arts Centre is a great venue for comedy and lots of comedians like performing there. Marcus Brigstocke will be appearing next season."

Mr Watson's comments were not the only time the town has been slated a comedian.

Camp comic and presenter of Channel 4's Friday Night Project, Alan Carr, called Maidstone "retarded" and full of "homophobic narrow-minded morons" and "racists" last year.

His comments annoyed MP Ann Widdecombe, who said he was talking "complete rot".

Maidstone's Up the Creek Comedy Club shut more than a year ago, but the county town still has the Kings of Comedy weekly club above Flaming Henry's restaurant in the High Street.

Owner Ilhan Nurhakli, said: "We have a show here every Friday night, and we have had never had two comedians the same and every time there is a different reaction."

"People in Maidstone are open to all different comedy topics so maybe the acts weren't funny or put across that well, which isn't the crowd's fault, so comedians shouldn't be attacking Maidstone."

Sporting chance of Olympic glory

A WEBSITE advertising Maidstone's Olympic hopefuls to potential business sponsors has been launched.

The site, www.maidstonesdream.co.uk, funded by Maidstone council and supported by Yourmaidstone, went live last night at a special event at Maidstone Gateway, King Street.

The website features the profiles of Maidstone's top athletes and sportspeople, including their specialist sport, name, age, education, sporting history, aspirations, coach, greatest achievements and proudest moment.

Businesses can search through the profiles and choose who they would like to sponsor and help that athlete take their talent all the way to the London Olympics. Yourmaidstone will exclusively profile one of the site's registered athletes monthly, starting from May 27.

Any business or athlete wishing to register their interest should contact Karen Jeal on 01622 602759 or email maidstonesdream@maidstone.gov.uk.

Terrier released

A JACK Russell terrier was rescued after two days trapped in a rabbit hole.

Owner Matt Hayes was at the scene in Quarry Wood nature reserve in West Farleigh, near Maidstone, as firefighters tunneled more than 20ft into the quarry to rescue his four-year-old pet, called Stan, last Tuesday.

Mr Hayes, who is a warden for Kent Wildlife Trust and in charge of the reserve, was walking Stan with partner Gemma Grant on Sunday when the dog dashed off in pursuit of a rabbit.

Mr Hayes, 27, from Teynham, near Sittingbourne, said: "He loves chasing rabbits and squirrels and was off like a flash."

Planners reject freight depot

stand up to scrutiny. The panel said KIG would significantly harm the countryside and Maidstone residents through its 24 hours a day, seven days a week operation.

Mid Kent and Faversham MP Hugh Robertson applauded the council decision, but warned: "We have only won the first battle of what will be a long war and we are going to need to keep the pressure on for months."

Ray Carey, 79, who lives in Bearsted with his wife Eileen, said: "We have had to put up with so much – the M20 put through our village, then the rail link and now this – when will it end? The minister needs to listen to what the council says and what people want, she just has to."

Earlier this year AXA Real Estate successfully appealed to go straight to a public inquiry, arguing Maidstone council was taking too long to reach its decision. But the authority was still required to hold a planning meeting to decide how it would have ruled.

This decision will be taken into account at the public inquiry, due to start on October 15 at a venue yet to be decided.

Communities and Local Government Minister Hazel Blears will then make the final decision.

Variable limits to help M20 traffic go with the flow

NEW safety cameras could be installed along a stretch of the M20 in a bid to reduce the number of accidents.

It forms part of a proposal by the Highways Agency which would also see the introduction of variable speed limits.

But the proposals – on which motorists have three months to put their views across – are likely to upset those who claim cameras are installed purely to generate income from fines.

The scheme is similar to the one already in force which varies the speed limits on the busy stretch of the M25 around Heathrow.

It is suggested the new traffic scheme would be introduced between junctions four and seven of the M20 – the West Mallory turn-off to the A249 turn-off at Maidstone. Variable limits would be introduced during peak times or after accidents.

The measure was introduced on the M25 in 1995 and led to a ten per cent drop in accidents and improved journey times throughout the affected stretch.

The multi-million-pound system allows the Highways Agency to manage traffic flow by slowing traffic or closing lanes after an accident.

"It uses sensors in the road surface to detect the volume of traffic, the speed it is traveling at and how it is flowing."

It calculates the optimum speed to keep everyone moving and reduce the stop-start pattern which causes tailbacks.

More than a dozen overhead gantries would be built to display the limit electronically, with the reverse of the gantries including speed cameras to record anyone breaking either the variable or national speed limit.

Motorists have 12 weeks to have their say on the M20 proposal, visit www.highways.gov.uk/roads/projects/23322.aspx.

Drug gang 'profitted from human misery'

■ BY STEVE KNIGHT

DRUG smugglers who used high-speed dinghies to transport large quantities of cocaine across the Channel have been jailed for a total of 54 years.

The gang of five men – including two from Larkfield – were arrested after a member of the public spotted a 'military-like operation' on a beach at Hythe, in March last year.

It involved the transfer of several black holdalls from a boat to a waiting vehicle, which was then driven away at high speed.

All five men were sentenced at Maidstone Crown Court on Thursday.

Det Sgt John McDermott said: "This is a very satisfying conclusion to what has been an intensive, meticulous and lengthy investigation across Kent, London and France.

"Significantly, the five men sentenced were part of an organised crime group that was probably one of the most prolific gangs involved in this type of criminality.

"This sentence sends a clear message to anyone involved in this type of crime. We are determined to prosecute offenders and strip them of their assets."

Police identified Nicolas Chappell, 47, from Larkfield, as the ring-leader of the gang, and he was sentenced to 18 years in prison after pleading guilty to conspiring to supply controlled drugs and money-laundering.

DRUG TRAFFICKERS: David Manser, left and Nicolas Chappell with a kilogram of cocaine that was seized by police

Brothers Neil, 33, and Jamie Hackett, 25, both from Bexleyheath, will spend 11 and nine years behind bars respectively. They too had pleaded guilty to the charges.

David Manser, 26, from Larkfield, and Giedrius Kavaliauskas, 28, from West Sussex, were both found guilty and both received eight-year sentences.

A sixth man, Paul Proud, 47, from London, was acquitted.

The investigation began in September, 2007, when a member of the public spotted them taking packages from a boat at Hythe.

Officers later caught the men loading the vessel into a van. They claimed to have been travelling to France in a small inflatable boat.

After the second operation the following March, police searched Chappell's home and found high-grade cocaine with a street value of more than £70,000 as well as a large amount of cash, the inflatable boat and various items of sea equipment. More was found at the home and business premises of Neil Hackett.

Judge David Griffiths-Jones, sentencing, said: "This was a well-planned and drilled operation using high-powered inflatable boats to travel to France in what was an organised commercial enterprise involving substantial quantities of cocaine.

"Those involved in this enterprise sought to make huge profits from human misery."

Right at home on The Range

A HUGE selection of home, garden and leisure goods is now on sale at Dockside Outlet Centre's newest store at Chatham Maritime.

The Range, which welcomed its first customers on May Day, offers more than 65,000 products all at discounted prices.

Store owner Chris Dawson said Chatham's new rail links to the capital tempted him to invest in Medway.

He said: "The high-speed rail line opens in a few months, which will lead to investment in the area and more people living here.

"We're going through a housing crash but this will recover much faster in Medway because of the situation with the trains."

Dockside centre manager Anthony Sutton welcomed the latest addition to the shopping complex, saying: "We always want to be moving forward and had reached a point where we were static.

"The Range has given us an injection that will move us onwards and upwards to 2010 and beyond."

Dockside Outlet Centre has extended its opening hours, with shoppers now able to browse from 9am to 8pm on Monday to Friday, 9am to 6pm on Saturdays, 11am to 5pm on Sundays and 10am to 5pm on bank holidays.

VERDICT: An inquest at County Hall heard that David Roots and Zocika O'Kelly inhaled carbon monoxide fumes

Couple killed by toxic fumes from gas grill

A COUPLE found dead at their home on Christmas Day had inhaled lethal carbon monoxide fumes from a gas cooker, an inquest heard.

David Roots, 55, and Zocika O'Kelly, 53, were found in the bedroom of the terraced house they shared in Eccles, near Aylesford, on December 25 last year. She was on the bed, he was lying face down on the floor.

Police used a key from a neighbour to get into the property in Belgrave Street after a call from Mr Root's estranged wife, Patricia.

She raised the alarm when Mr Roots, a lighting engineer, did not turn up for a pre-arranged Christmas dinner with their three adult children at her home in Hoo.

Sgt Peter Heaton told the inquest at County Hall in Maidstone last Wednesday that he discovered the bodies shortly after arriving at the house at 5.10pm. He found the grill of a gas cooker in the kitchen was still on and very hot, but with its door closed.

Driving back to the police station he got a headache – a sign of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Cliff Willard, a regional technical manager for British Gas, who helped investigate the incident, told the inquest the cooker had instructions on it for the grill door to be kept open while in use. He said the door might have been accidentally shut following cooking or the grill might have been put on to heat the property.

■ BY ANNA WHITE

Coroner Roger Sykes recorded a verdict of accidental death.

During the inquest it emerged that the deaths could have been avoided if a modification had been made to the door of the cooker.

Karen Springford, of Kent County Council's Trading Standards, said her department had been alerted after three similar incidents of carbon monoxide poisoning from gas cookers.

She said trading standards had been over-seeing changes to this type of gas cooker with a door seal to increase airflow.

After the inquest Mrs Roots, who had been separated from her husband for five years, said: "It is too late for us, but hopefully this will stop it from happening to others."

Mr and Mrs Roots had three children together, David, 26, Katy, 20, and Vicky, 25, who has a three-year-old son, Cameron.

Vicky, who lives in Chatham, described her dad as "funny, generous and a hard-worker."

She said: "He loved Cameron so much. Cameron keeps asking me when he can see granddad, but I tell him he can't, because he is with the angels."

Suspects captured on CCTV after purse theft

POLICE are hunting two men suspected of stealing a purse from a store in Maidstone.

The purse was taken from Wilkinsons, in The Mall Chequers shopping centre, on Tuesday last week between 11am and 11.20am.

The investigating officers have released this still image taken from CCTV footage of two suspects.

One of the men had dark hair and wore blue jeans, white trainers and a dark-coloured coat. The other also had dark hair and wore dark coat, trousers and shoes.

Anyone who knows the men should call Kent Police on 01795 419111, or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Chef unveils school hall

CELEBRITY chef Richard Phillips opened a state-of-the-art kitchen and dining hall at a Maidstone school on Friday by cooking for parents and pupils.

The chef on BBC TV show Ready, Steady, Cook launched Sutton Valence Preparatory School's new dining hall, which will cater for 380 children.

Mr Phillips, who lives in Maidstone, is the executive head chef of three of Kent's finest restaurants: Michelin-starred Thackeray's, in Tunbridge Wells, Chapel Down, in Tenterden, and The Hengist, in Aylesford.

He unveiled a plaque at the £450,000 dining hall, joined by headmaster Craig Gibbs and chairman of governors Bryan Baughan.

After the unveiling the chef, who is backing KOS Media's Food for Kent campaign to encourage people to make the most of local produce, whipped up a summer dessert, with a little help from some of the pupils.

Pile-up closes motorway

MOTORISTS were caught in traffic jams after a three-car pile-up closed a section of the M20, near Maidstone.

The crash happened just after junction eight of the coastbound carriageway at Hollingbourne at 10.30am on Friday. Both carriageways were closed to allow the Kent Air Ambulance to land.

One person was flown to hospital in Essex with shoulder and pelvis injuries, another was taken by land ambulance to William Harvey Hospital in Ashford with minor injuries. Traffic was diverted on to the A20.

Police hunting for flasher

A FLASHER who exposed himself to a dog walker in woods near Maidstone is being hunted by police.

The incident took place in Heath Woods at Penenden Heath, at about 12.55pm on Saturday, May 2.

The man was described as being in his thirties, of eastern European appearance, 6ft 4in tall and of medium build.

He wore baggy shell suit-like trousers and a black fleece-like hat with red piping. Anyone with information should call Kent Police on 01795 419182 or Crimestoppers, in confidence, on 0800 555111.

CHARITY TREK: Holly Rogers during her 8.5 mile walk

A SIX-year-old girl managed to raise £800 for a hospice in just four days before she completed an 8.5 mile sponsored walk.

Holly Rogers took part in the annual Bluebell Walk at Harrietsham on Sunday May 3 in aid of the Heart of Kent Hospice, which is based in Aylesford.

The youngster read about the charity walk, which goes through the North Downs, in a KOS Media paper shortly before the event.

She started collecting sponsors with just days to go with help from Serina Yorke, who works with Holly's father at SC Motor Factors in Maidstone.

Holly's mother, Samatha Rogers, said: "Serina visited all of SC's customers and asked if they would like to sponsor Holly for the walk and the response was amazing, it just goes to show you that people really do care."

"Many thanks to all friends, family and SC Motor Factor customers who sponsored Holly."

QUESTION & ANSWER

LUKE JOHNSON

Q Tell us a little about yourself.

A I was born in Halifax, West Yorkshire. I'm president of The Kent Motorcycle Society (KMS) at the University of Kent, where I'm studying law and French.

Q What is Kent Motorcycle Society?

A KMS is a university society. We have around 25 members who are university students. Others that come along are either ex-students or are friends from London and around Kent. The society started four years ago, when a friend decided it would be good for all the students on campus with motorbikes to socialise. We go to the pub during the week and at weekends we go riding. Since I took the presidency this year, membership has grown. We've started looking at ways to teach people to ride. This year we have had free taster sessions with South East Motorcycles at Thanet and the society subsidises the test fee.

Q How did you get involved?

A The university runs a freshers' fare at the start of every year where the new students come along and check out the different societies on campus. I'd heard about the KMS and really wanted to join. I'd just passed my bike test when I started university so I wanted to get out on the road with everybody. I had a field bike when I was 13 that I had paid for by doing two paper rounds. I sold that and always wanted to get riding again. After I had lived in Japan for a while I saw a bike out there that I really liked, so when I got back I bought one and spent six months polishing it before I passed my test. When I got riding again, the bike got cleaned less and less. It was far more fun to ride than polish.

Q What kind of events do you hold?

A We all go riding most weekends and attend the bike shows in London, which did take some organising in previous years. However, the university has been really good and paid for us to be trained to drive the minibuses, which they provide for free. That's made it a lot easier to get everybody involved. We've also had trips over to France and across Europe. We're planning a camping trip to the Isle of Man TT this year.

Q How can people get involved?

A Membership is limited to university students, but we welcome anybody along as if they were. People can always send us an email. We're happy to offer general advice and information. If people would like to come riding then we'd welcome them along too. We send out email updates giving details of rides and trips. If anybody is interested in being added to our mailing list they can send us their details by email.

Q Do you ever get compared to the Hells Angels?

A I had a cruiser last year and liked to picture myself as Arnold Schwarzenegger, but it wasn't really happening. A lot of the lads ride sports bikes so we're all about the speed, the image carries itself.

Q What is your favourite bike?

A Norton, the old British marque, is to start producing bikes again after around 40 years of being defunct. I'd love to get my hands on one of the new ones but there's a limited run of 200 this year until production steps up and there'll be a lot of competition to get one!

Q Do you think biking is dangerous?

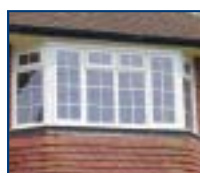

A Anybody who's never tried biking would tell you it's dangerous. Biking is just as safe as being in a car or on a bus. I've never had a bump, crash, scratch or fall. I'm living proof that being on two wheels doesn't carry life threatening injuries with it. I've never been in a difficult situation I wasn't able to avoid with a bit of quick manoeuvring.

• To be added to the mailing list, email KMS at kentmotorcyclesociety@gmail.com

'Lusty' salute to Navy pioneers

THE flagship of the Royal Navy, HMS Illustrious, steamed majestically around the coast of Kent on its way to a royal reception.

Setting out from Portsmouth, the 22,000-tonne aircraft carrier headed out into the English Channel and rounded Dungeness before sailing past Dover, around Thanet, past the Isle of Sheppey and under the bridge at Dartford before mooring off Greenwich.

The cruise formed part of the celebrations marking 100 years of naval aviation – the service acquired its first airship in 1909.

Guest of honour on board for a special dinner was Prince Andrew, the Duke of York, who was joined by defence secretary John Hutton.

During the voyage the Navy's head of aviation, Rear Admiral Simon Charlier, arrived on board at the controls of a Merlin helicopter.

"I love flying," he said. "And when you are an admiral, it's easy to get the controls."

The officer, who attended Dover College where he captained the sailing team, said: "This centenary is a big celebration. After two world wars and other conflicts, we are looking to the future and I know our proud traditions will be maintained."

HMS Illustrious is the nation's strike carrier, with Harrier jets and helicopters flying from its deck.

The ship is responsible for home defence and protecting air power abroad, having recently been deployed off both Iraq and Afghanistan.

She is also a major factor in the UK's response to international disasters, assisting humanitarian operations in Mozambique and evacuating civilians from danger zones.

When HMS Illustrious sailed around the south coast to mark the centenary of naval aviation, our reporter NICK AMES was on board to meet the crew who patrol the high seas for Queen and country

FLY AND MIGHTY: Harrier on carrier's flight deck

The ship – known affectionately as 'Lusty' by her crew – came into service in 1982 and is due to be retired in the next decade and replaced by two 'super carriers', the 63,000-tonne Queen Elizabeth II and Prince of Wales. "A lot of people don't really know what ships do," said Sub-

Lieutenant Matthew Winwood, from Gillingham, who is training to be a mine clearance diver.

"After all, they are usually out at sea. This is a chance for people to get a good look at us as we sail past the coast."

The captain of Illustrious is Ben Key, whose grandfather fought at the Battle of Jutland in the Great War. Capt Key, whose grandmother is from Canterbury, explained his role.

"I have the best job in the Royal Navy," he said. "My task is to take whatever I am asked to do by the Commander-in-Chief and achieve it. I have to ensure all the potential, talent and energy among my crew is pointing in the same direction to achieve the goal we aim for."

Before embarking on her voyage, Illustrious was moored next to the Navy's newest warship, the Type 45 destroyer HMS Daring, the most advanced combat vessel in the world.

She then sailed south past the Isle of Wight where a Harrier jet piloted by Lt Paul Francis touched down on deck.

Sea King, Merlin and Lynx helicopters followed and were all on parade as the ship sailed through the Thames Barrier – with just a few feet of clearance each side – and arrived in London last Wednesday. For trainee officer Dan Howes, from Lydden, it was quite an experience.

"It is really my first time at sea," he said.

"But I know what I want to do – fly Harriers. It must be an incredible buzz."

His friend and fellow trainee Dominic Savage, from Whitstable, said: "My father was in the Navy, as was my grandfather who fought in World War Two. I wanted to follow in their footsteps – and I'm glad I did."

Sally's cool idea which makes summer special

ICE cream has evolved considerably in recent years.

The likes of Häagen-Dazs and Ben & Jerry's have taken the humble dish and elevated it to a whole new level of quality and accessibility.

Yet, as with so many things, just once in a while the mass-produced products find themselves eclipsed by something a little more, well, home grown.

And it is from Kent that one particular product has grown a reputation which seems to make it destined for national appeal.

As such, it fits perfectly our 2009 campaign encouraging our readers to support local growers, suppliers and producers, spearheaded by our www.foodforkent.co.uk website.

Simply Ice Cream grew off the back of a successful catering business, an aspect of the overall package that proved such a hit with customers that they inundated caterer Sally Newall with demands for more.

Her home made recipe was proving a taste sensation and it quickly became apparent it was worth pushing as a business in itself.

The businesswoman started selling the ice cream through her local farmshop at Sellindge, near Ashford, in 2005. It started an incredible chain reaction. Six months later five more shops starting selling it; then 15 in 2007; and now it's stocked in 65 locations in and around Kent, landing a host of awards, and, more recently, securing a distribution deal to be stocked in Kent outlets of the upmarket supermarket chain Waitrose. Just to enhance its proposition further, celebrity TV chef James Martin used the honeycomb variety on his BBC show Saturday Kitchen – and declared it the “best bought ice cream available”.

SIMPLY THE BEST: Ice-cream maker Sally Newall

What's more, it uses as many locally produced flavours and fruits as possible.

Mrs Newall said: “We make it by hand. Traditionally, ice cream is made by skimmed milk powders and water and they can pump quite a lot of air in. So we've tried to make it like it used to be made.

“We use double cream, milk and sugar and fresh fruit. They are as natural as possible. The fruit is all from Kent when we can get it, – so last year we did strawberry, cherry, blackcurrant – and we try to source things as locally as possible.

“If we make it ourselves we know what goes into it. There are no additives or preservatives, which is at the heart of our ethos. We try to avoid that where possible.”

Mrs Newall was brought up in Kent and apart from a five-year stay in Australia, has lived in the same area of the county. The Simply Ice Cream business is based in the village of Bonnington, near Ashford.

“I am surprised at how it has taken off,” Mrs Newall said. “With all small businesses there are peaks and troughs and our business plan has always been to double our turnover year on year, which we have managed, but there are still some moments where I wonder what am I doing.”

After clinching the Waitrose deal, talks are now under way aimed at taking the product across the UK, spearheaded by its hugely popular Honeycomb Crunch variety.

Cherries on the cake

A SPECTACULAR array of cherry blossoms greeted children visiting Doddington Gardens for the launch of a walk celebrating some of the county's finest fruit.

Pupils from Lynsted School were treated to a cream tea at the Produced in Kent event, which unveiled the cherry-inspired route as a taster for an expected bumper harvest.

Produced in Kent is supporting our campaign and our www.foodforkent.co.uk website. The new 36 mile circular walk runs from Doddington church, following footpaths, quiet lanes and a mix of traditional and commercial orchards which will ripen in July. Produced in Kent is creating a brochure to tie in with its Cherry Ripe trail which will feature details of the firms selling the cherries to be found along the walk.

Julie Monkman, manager of Produced in Kent, said: “We've all heard of the benefits of eating five a day and consuming more superfoods and Kent can stand proud and shout loud about its own super fruit. There is evidence that food grown, picked and consumed locally retains more of its natural goodness and cherries are packed with antioxidant vitamins A and C.”

Visit www.producedinkent.co.uk for more information about Produced in Kent and the cherry walk.

Winning designs for summer fun

■ BY ANNA WHITE

THREE artistic youngsters have won a competition to have their work displayed on posters and programmes for their school summer fair.

The aim of the competition at Leeds and Broomfield CofE Primary School, in Maidstone, was for pupils to create an eye-catching design to help promote the event.

All the entered work was judged by local artist and school governor Antonia Graham, who picked the three winners.

The winning pieces belonged to Alice Chapman, nine, Bronte Mitchell, eight, and ten-year-old Anthony Reynolds.

Alice chose to draw various stalls and attractions being held during the fair, including a bouncy castle and quad bikes.

Bronte also designed a colourful poster but her work featured people holding up a 'Summer Fayre' sign.

Anthony chose a different approach and created a brochure encouraging people who are "bored of weekends" and "have nothing to do" to come along to the event.

Mrs Graham said: "The designs were all really good. It was difficult to choose a winner but these three won through because they were all eye-catching and colourful."

Leeds and Broomfield head teacher, Steve McGill, said: "It's great for the children to get involved in the summer fair and this is just one of the ways they take part."

The event will be held at the school on Sunday, June 14, and promises to be a fun day out for all the family.

There will be various activities and stalls, plus a gyroscope, ski simulator, and a beer and Pimms tent for the parents.

A toddler section will also be available during the event.

The fun starts at noon and will go on until 3pm, and everyone is welcome.

Ambassadors taste success of college

A STUDENT-run restaurant treated some of the county's ambassadors to a two-course feast of Kentish produce when they visited their campus.

Nearly 30 members of the Kent Ambassadors joined MidKent College's senior leadership team and governors for the luncheon at the college's Galley Restaurant at the Oakwood Park campus, in Maidstone, on April 28.

The meal, made entirely from Kent-produced ingredients, was fully prepared and served by the college's hospitality and catering students.

The ambassadors' group brings together key people from various sectors to raise Kent's profile and promote economic growth within the county.

The ambassadors' enthusiasm was evident at the lunch as they were keen to hear about the current and future developments at the college and the benefits for those living in the Maidstone area.

Chair of the Kent Ambassadors, Bobby Neame, of Britain's oldest brewery, Shepherd Neame, said: "We are delighted to have been invited here to see what MidKent College has to offer the many peoples of Kent.

"The college itself is incredibly important in helping us to recover our ailing economy and it offers vital opportunities for a great many young people, adults and employers alike."

Each week we get a mystery writer to air their views on living in and around Maidstone...

Gurkha darling Joanna would be absolutely fabulous as PM

I KNOW it's not just me but I can't help echoing a call that has been resonating across Britain for the past week or so.

Joanna Lumley for Prime Minister!

What she has done for the Gurkhas – put their case so eloquently and passionately to the highest authority in the land – she could do for the rest of us.

No more panics over swine flu, expenses-grabbing and second homes scandals with Prime Minister Lumley.

Her seemingly endless list of virtues would ensure she would be forgiven anyway – at least by the male half of the population.

She may be past her New Avengers era youth but she still has the blonde tresses, willowy figure and ability to look sexy while brandishing a kukri. But that's not all.

She knows how to play the political game.

Her address to Gordon Brown says it all. "Now I feel we have got to the head man,"

Joanna said after her meeting. "The man at the top, the leader of our entire nation."

At a time when Gordon has very few friends – how he must have loved hearing that.

Flattery will get you everywhere when it comes to playing the political game, and laid on by an attractive woman it will certainly work wonders. But it is also her essential "goodness" at a time when so much of politics, the media and just about everything else is desperately cynical, which is so appealing.

Whether it be fronting travel shows where her enthusiasm, way with people and total lack of condescension set her apart from most other presenters or petitioning for Compassion in World Farming by taking piglets to Parliament, she manages to strike the right chord.

And what about her experience of life?

Compared with all who sit in Parliament and have made a career of politics she has it in abundance. A Bond girl in On Her Majesty's Secret Service, battling the country's enemies assisting a man armed only with a bowler hat and another with the worst taste in ties ever on screen in the New Avengers, or cutting a swathe through the fashion business in Absolutely Fabulous – what can compare?

Oh, and a spot of time travel in Sapphire and Steel, which was a show I don't think anyone but me ever watched.

But it all adds up to someone who will bring colour, honesty and fun to Parliament.

Above all she is essentially English – with a slight schoolgirl manner to go with her undoubted sophistication.

The Gurkha campaign has been an undoubted success and let's hope for the right result. But it's time for Joanna Lumley to move on to bigger things.

She'd have Barack Obama, Nicolas Sarkozy and the rest of the male world leaders eating out of her hand. Step forward Joanna Lumley – your country needs you!

TALK TIME

CLARE STEWARD

The manager of florist Girl Flower talks about setting up her business and her racy Valentine's Day shop-window promotion which stopped shoppers in their tracks

Can you tell us a little bit about yourself?

I am 30 years old this year and can't believe how quickly time has flown since I opened the shop in 2006. I re-trained as a florist after working within office environments and I was working from home doing flowers and working part time doing accounts when the shop next to my office came up. Within a month we had the shop fitted out and ready to go. We decided to open Mother's Day week to give the business a kick-start. Within the first two years we won three awards in the Flower Shop of the Year Competition.

What makes Flower Girl different?

We are an independent florist so not part of a relay service, therefore we create bespoke designs for all occasions. My floral designers and I don't have set designs to work to and we love to let unique creativity flow. We also source local produce including locally grown tulips, daffodils and sunflowers. Girl Flower is a contemporary and modern florist.

Tell us about your Valentine's promotion.

We were brainstorming ideas to promote Valentine's and Serena, one of my floral designers, came up with a rather unusual window display. With the help of Cardio Striptease providing a burlesque dancer and Bower Grove School providing a stage, we had a burlesque performer in our window leading up to Valentine's Day. It proved to be an effective way of getting people to notice us and many stopped to watch and give Miss Glory Pearl a round of applause.

Sue Eagles mentions was the 'Mayfly', an airship that never flew.

Naval aviation did not happen at Eastchurch until 1910 when the early aviators moved from Leysdown.

The latter is the cradle of aviation in Kent yet not once in your article did you mention the momentous events that took place there in May 1909.

Let us once and for all put aside the myth that Eastchurch was were flying in the UK began and get back to the basic history of aviation.

Time to march to General Election

The recent fiasco over the Gurkhas' undeniable right to stay in this country shows - as if it needed illustrating - the extreme paucity of ideas and imagination in this current Government.

It also showed without any doubt how out of date this current Government is when it comes to gauging public feeling.

It has become increasingly obvious that the MPs on the Labour benches have - in the main - just stopped listening to what people have to say.

This means that it is no longer fit to govern and a General Election is the only way forward.

Terry Knox, from Maidstone, by email

Invicta's heart wasn't in it anyway

It does not matter that Invicta FM is becoming Heart. After all, as far as I am concerned Invicta plays the same music in roughly the same order as Essex FM and Southern FM.

I think the three stations are all the same after 7pm until 6am and all day Saturday and Sunday.

Therefore I would say Invicta is not a local station in any sense anymore.

I feel Invicta FM went down once it became part of the Capital Group and later the merged G/Cap and now under the news owners Global – which also now owns Heart.

So no change, just go ahead.

Keith Hitchings, from Queenborough, on the Isle of Sheppey, comment posed on web story at www.yourmaidstone.co.uk

Churchill would have liked UKIP campaign

After reading about the launch of UKIP's Euro elections campaign in Maidstone, I want to get the message across that Winston Churchill wanted stronger ties between European Nations to prevent future wars.

What he didn't want was a Federal Union of Europe like the United States of America, which is what we are heading towards.

He would never have given up power over important issues like immigration or defence to other countries.

Mohammad, from Gillingham, comment posted on web story at www.yourmaidstone.co.uk

Sun is shining on British economy

The news that this is going to be the hottest summer for a few years is one of the first good things I have heard for ages.

With so many people having to take holidays at home I am sure I am not alone in being pleased with this news.

I have cancelled my usual two weeks in the south of France for a trip to Devon.

If the weather is fine I may do the same next year – and if enough others follow suit what a boost for the UK economy.

Don't trade with our earning hours

There is never a good time to mess around with people's ability to earn a living, but during this period of economic hardship it is a particularly daft thing to do.

So it is not a great idea for the Trade Union Congress (TUC) to call for a limit on the working week of 48 hours.

Don't these socialist dinosaurs realise that in order to make ends meet people want to work as many hours as possible to get in as much cash as they can.

It's all very well for high paid union bosses to try and limit time people can earn in – they don't have to worry about being on the bread-line.

For many people working extra hours is the only way they can get by.

Neil Gorman, by email

Key player is back where he belongs

Great news that Rob Key is back in the England squad – I was beginning to think he would never get the chance again.

He's a great batsman – but I'm glad he is not there as captain.

Two one day final defeats last season and relegation do not suggest he is one of the best leaders of a cricket team around.

But he is certainly a player who will get stuck in and not give his wicket away cheaply.

Let's hope he can continue on into the summer and give the Aussies plenty of problems.

And let's hope – if that is the case – Kent get an adequate replacement for his undoubted batting skills.

Dream role is destiny

Craig Chalmers finally plays Joseph as West End musical goes on the road

JOSEPH AND THE AMAZING TECHNICOLOR DREAMCOAT

Monday, May 25 to Saturday, May 30
Assembly Hall Theatre, Tunbridge Wells

AFTER entertaining millions of television viewers in Any Dream Will Do, Craig Chalmers is finally playing his dream role.

Chalmers was among the aspiring actors who competed to win the lead role in Andrew Lloyd Webber's Joseph And The Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat.

Facing stiff competition, Chalmers made it to the seventh show of the series, winning fans with his impressive performances and the fun edge he brought to Joseph's personality.

He was beaten to the prize by Lee Mead, but he is now delighting audiences all over the country in this touring production of the hugely popular musical.

Based on the Biblical story about a favourite son who is presented with a 'coat of many colours', the show started out as a short school performance in 1968. Over the years it was developed before being presented at the Edinburgh Festival in 1972, though it did not reach Broadway for another 10 years.

The show seemed to receive a new lease on life when an expanded version opened in London in 1991, with former Neighbours actor and pop star Jason Donovan in the lead role. Other stars to have played Joseph include television presenter Philip Schofield and Stephen Gately of Boyzone fame.

The captivating story follows the adventures of Joseph, one of 13 sons and a dreamer with the ability to interpret his visions.

When it appears that these dreams signal Joseph's destiny - that he will rule over the others - his brothers become jealous of the amazing coat presented to him by their father.

Together they fake Joseph's death and break the terrible news to their father, while in reality they have sold him as a slave and he is taken to Egypt to serve the rich Potiphar.

A misunderstanding with Potiphar's wife sees Joseph thrown in jail, but the Pharaoh hears of his ability to interpret dreams and releases him from prison. When Joseph predicts a period of great famine for Egypt, he is put in charge of emergency preparations and becomes the most powerful man in the land.

But the threat of crisis brings his traitorous brothers back into his life, begging for help from the boy they no longer recognise.

With unforgettable songs such as Any Dream Will Do and Close Ev'ry Door To Me, this is a colourful musical that will entertain the family.

Casting is subject to change and a different actor will play Joseph in the Wednesday matinee and 2pm Saturday performance. To book tickets call 01892 530613/532072 or go to www.assemblyhalltheatre.co.uk.

BUG LOVIN

Friday to Sunday, May 15-17
The Hop Farm, Paddock Wood

A FULL throttle weekend awaits car fans as Bug Lovin, the South East's largest Volkswagen festival, comes to The Hop Farm.

Visitors will see some of the UK's rarest VW bugs, along with the country's best cars and campervans.

With live music, demonstrations and fun activities for the kids, visitors should enjoy a brilliant weekend among the bugs.

The highlight of the music programme will be an appearance by Inspiral Carpets frontman Tom Hingley, who will perform the band's classic hits and songs from their new album.

VW car and camper clubs from around the country will compete to win the coveted Bug Lovin Best Club Stand Award. More impressive specimens can be seen in the indoor Safari Jungle, including a rare special edition model, one of only 5,000 ever built.

Advance tickets cost £8/£4 or £20 for families of four.

For those who would like to make a weekend of it, the Hop Farm has 300 camping pitches available.

Advance weekend camping tickets cost £20/£10 or £40 for families, including admission to the show. To book call 01622 870821 or visit www.thehopfarm.co.uk.

PAUL MERTON'S SILENT CLOWNS

Friday, May 15
Assembly Hall Theatre, Tunbridge Wells

PAUL Merton takes a break from clowning around to present a show about his heroes.

Following the success of his BBC television series, Merton is sharing his enthusiasm for silent clowns and giving audiences the rare chance to see classic films on a big screen.

The first half will comprise Merton introducing clips from the films of Charlie Chaplin, Harold Lloyd and Laurel and Hardy. After the interval, the audience can revel in a screening of Buster Keaton's feature-length comic masterpiece, Steamboat Bill Junior. The film features a famous scene in which the side of a building collapses on Keaton, who narrowly avoids injury by stepping into an open window frame.

The films will be accompanied by world-renowned pianist Neil Brand.

The show starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost

£14.50 for adults and £9.50 for children, with a second child half-price and concessions available. To book call 01892 530613/532072 or visit www.assemblyhalltheatre.co.uk.

HOO-HAH CONSPIRACY

Friday, May 15
Hazlitt Arts Centre, Maidstone

ESCAPE the normality of everyday life and plunge into the mysterious world of The Hoo-Hah Conspiracy...Secret Cabaret!

Described as a cross between The Rocky Horror Show and The Mighty Boosh, the show should provide an evening to remember in the Hazlitt Arts Centre's Fourth Wall.

The audience will meet a variety of weird and wonderful characters, as they experience the show's off-the-wall comedy and take part in some audience participation.

The show is produced by Hoo-Hah Productions, based at The Maidstone Studios, and features music by the JPL World Music Award-winning band, The Hoo-Hah Conspiracy. It has been performed at the Bakehouse Theatre and the Rosemary Branch Theatre in London and was a sell-out success at the Queen's Theatre in Essex.

Each audience member will receive a free vodka, gingerbread man and CD and a Hoo-Hah Conspiracy member's badge. For more information about the show visit www.thehooahconspiracy.co.uk.

The show starts at 8pm and tickets cost £8.50. Book online at www.hazlittarts-centre.co.uk or call 01622 758611.

Hello I'm Barry,

Choose top ten acts for farm festival

■ BY SIMON ROBINSON

BRAVE festival chiefs are giving music fans the opportunity to choose ten Kent bands to play at the Lounge on the Farm weekender – in the You Say They Play online competition.

The contest – link below – allows web-users the chance to vote for their favourite acts from across the county.

The top ten will be given slots on the Merton Farm festival's main stage.

While I admire the Lounge organisers' trust in the noble pursuit of people power, voting and democracy, it's important to remember that these same rights saw Steve Brookstein win the X Factor.

Lesson being – the people don't always get it right.

But for now, KOS Media is embracing You Say They Play.

LOTF's Matt Gough said the competition arose from an huge abundance of choice.

"There are now just too many bands of a high quality within Kent that we just don't know who to, or how we could, choose between them anymore," he said.

"So this year, in order to bring the local bands that the ticket-holder wants to see, we are launching a brand-new competition to find the hottest ten bands in Kent to play on our main stage.

"We are anticipating around 200 local bands will register, with the potential voting numbers to reach 10,000.

"This is a sizeable event for the local music scene within Kent. Local radio station CSR FM has signed up as media partner and will be featuring tracks from the bands throughout the next six weeks on radio and online.

"In the middle of June the 'Farmers' Fifty' bands with the most votes will be taken into round two of the voting. Then everyone who has bought a ticket for the website, and affiliated members of the festival, will be allowed to vote again for the ten bands that they would like to see on the festival main stage."

Lounge runs from Friday, July 10 to Sunday, July 12.

The line-up already boasts the likes of Edwyn Collins, The Horrors, Mr Scruff, Billy Childish and The Musicians of the British Empire, The Aliens and Dub Pistols.

ON GENERAL RELEASE

IS ANYBODY THERE? (12A)

Ten-year-old Edward lives in a sleepy retirement home run by his parents. His solitude is interrupted with the arrival of Clarence (Michael Caine), a retired magician who doesn't suffer children gladly.

GHOSTS OF GIRLFRIENDS PAST (12A)

Connor Mead (Matthew McConaughey) has a reckless attitude towards women. Then he sees the ghost of Uncle Wayne (Michael Douglas) who informs him he will be visited by three spirits.

HANNAH MONTANA - THE MOVIE (U)

Dragged back to her home town in Tennessee by her father, can Miley Stewart (Miley Cyrus) juggle her twin identities and avoid the paparazzi at a benefit concert fronted by Hannah Montana?

Screen beauty Michelle aims to age gracefully

BY SHEREEN LOW

HOLLYWOOD is known for tossing aside older actresses faster than you can say 'Lights, camera, action'. But for Michelle Pfeiffer, who turned 51 last month, the roles continue to come in.

"I started getting asked how it feels to age in Hollywood when I was 35. I think it's changing. There are more actresses now who have crossed that threshold," says Michelle.

Most recently, she has played a witch-queen in Stardust, a singing villainous mother in Hairspray and an ageing French courtesan romantically involved with a younger man (played by Rupert Friend) in Chéri, released last weekend.

"This is my third movie doing that recently, but it's always welcome," smiles Michelle.

"The older I get, the younger my leading men get, which is interesting because it was the opposite when I was younger."

In real life, Michelle is happily married to TV writer and producer David E Kelley (Ally McBeal, Boston Legal) and the couple have two children – adopted 16-year-old daughter Claudia and 14-year-old biological son John.

The actress took a four-year hiatus in 2003 to spend more time with her family when they moved away from Los Angeles.

"It got harder finding projects that didn't entail me leaving home for long periods of time during the school year, so we moved," she explains.

"It was a big transition, much bigger than I anticipated – actually quite overwhelming."

"The move kept me occupied and distracted from my work. After we settled in, I realised how long it had been and I started to miss it."

AGE PERFECT: Michelle Pfeiffer as Lea de Lonval in Chéri

"I decided to come back to work and Hairspray was there, Stardust was there. It's been really fun and I've been lucky to have the opportunities I've had."

The star of films such as The Fabulous Baker Boys, Dangerous Minds and Batman Returns, where she played Catwoman, looks years younger than her age and isn't keen on cosmetic surgery to keep the wrinkles at bay.

"Although the older you get, the harder it is to say never. It's easy to say that when you're 25," she says.

"I don't really object, I don't really care about plastic surgery one way or another. I suppose I object to bad plastic surgery, and too much of it is not a good thing."

Instead, she tries to maintain a healthy diet, although it's difficult to picture Michelle, who looks very slim in an elegant black dress and black Christian Louboutin heels, indulging in junk food.

Michelle's career spans nearly four decades and she has no plans to take it easy just yet.

"I've been working since I was 14, and I loved working from the moment I had my first job. I don't think I'll ever retire."

HOT STEPPERS: Diversity seem to be a good bet for winning popular show Britain's Got Talent

BY TOM BETTS

■ SNOG MARRY AVOID
BBC Three, 12.05am, Thursday
BRITAIN'S GOT TALENT
ITV1, 8.20pm, Saturday

IF there's a better reason to leave Britain this very instant than BBC Three's lamentable show Snog Marry Avoid, then I have yet to discover it.

Presented by Jenny Frost, formerly of Atomic Kitten, and a computer called POD, this is the kind of nonsense that makes you wonder why we pay our TV licence.

Each time we're faced with a selection of misfits who dress in an extreme, or inappropriate, manner.

Be that a fake tan-obsessed wannabe page three model, the cyber goth who "just wants to be different", or the recent self-declared "only male Barbie in Scotland" so orange he looked like he was hooked up to an intravenous drip filled with Tango...

The computer then gives them a make-under, not a make-over, to look more normal and presentable.

The results are always for the better, not that it seems to matter as the clothes and look are swept away by the subject who more often than not decides it was better to go clubbing in a leotard with their bits hanging out.

This is often on as I drift off to sleep and has given me many nightmares. Perhaps time to stop on both my part and the BBC's.

I think it's fair to say the latest series of Britain's Got Talent has been a belter thus far.

Each week seems to foist a new star into the public eye.

Whether it's been the big story of Susan Boyle (now over 53 million YouTube hits for the original clip, and counting) or singing pizza delivery man Jamie Pugh, we have had a clutch of memorable TV moments.

The show has proved to be a huge draw once again and must now be a bigger asset to ITV than The X Factor because so many people seem to be able to relate to it.

It encapsulates the dreams of the elderly as well as the young and has become a genuine phenomenon.

For my money, dance act Diversity look like a good bet to go all the way this year. Their audition was spectacular and the guy who leads the troupe seems to already have an army of female fans who think he's swell, and he may well be.

Show six is on Saturday night – what new treats await?

YOUR WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY RUSSELL GRANT

AQUARIUS (Jan 21-Feb 19)
THE demands of your social position are starting to wear on you. If you're the breadwinner, it may feel like you can never take a break for fear of financial collapse. Whatever your station in life, it's time to break out of your box. There's more to you than meets the eye.

TAURUS (Apr 21-May 21)
YOUR relationship status is giving you lots of angst. If you have a lover, your union isn't living up to your expectations. Perhaps one of you is outshining the other. An honest discussion is probably in order. If you are single, it may be because you've set your sights too high.
• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Taurus 09067-531753

LEO (Jul 24-Aug 23)
YOU'RE tired of having to watch over a responsible adult. It's time to cut the apron strings, even at the risk of looking cruel. Enabling a romantic partner's neurosis is especially dangerous. Go to as many interviews as possible. You can talk your way into a prestigious company.
• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Leo 09067-531756

SCORPIO (Oct 24-Nov 22)
YOUR moods are a roller-coaster ride, and no wonder. Someone close to your heart keeps sending conflicting signals. One minute they're fine, the next they're on the brink of collapse. They are playing you like a violin. Stop making yourself constantly available to their whims.
• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Scorpio 09067-531759

PISCES (Feb 20-Mar 20)
EVERY time you hear the news, you go into a downward spiral. At times like these, it's important to remember you're getting only one side of the story. There is plenty of kindness in the world; it's just that it never makes the headlines. Expressing yourself clearly will help you avoid trouble.
• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Pisces 09067-531763

GEMINI (May 22-Jun 22)
UNHEALTHY habits have a way of catching up on you. It may be time to revise your diet or step up your exercise regimen. By examining your motivations to neglect your physical health, you could turn a corner. Beware of pretending to know more than you do.
• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Gemini 09067-531754

VIRGO (Aug 24-Sep 23)
YOUR overactive mind is causing you to lose sleep. There's no point overanalysing an emotional situation, you just have to walk away. The person is not prepared to find a workable solution. If you're suffering from heartache, this would be an ideal time to take a long distance trip.
• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Virgo 09067-531757

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23-Dec 21)
IT FEELS like your brain is on time delay. Instead of forcing yourself to pick up the pace, stop and take some emotional inventory. Have you been neglecting yourself in some way? If you have an office job, get into the habit of a walk on your lunch hour, or a run before or after work.

ARIES (Mar 21-Apr 20)
ACCUMULATING more debt is causing you to go into emotional free fall. You've got to start questioning why you're on a shopping spree. Linking your self worth to your economic health is a drastic mistake. Volunteering for a good cause can cause your confidence to come soaring back.
• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Aries 09067-531752

CANCER (Jun 23-Jul 23)
IT feels like everybody is tugging on your sleeve, leaving you no time for fun. You simply have no time to spare. Maybe it's because you've overextended. Are you performing these duties out of necessity, or are you getting some sick satisfaction from being a martyr?
• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Cancer 09067-531755

LIBRA (Sep 24-Oct 23)
GOING against your beliefs could land you in trouble. Sure, it's fun going along with a wild person's suggestions, but at the end of the day, you can't believe all the destruction you've caused. Be especially careful about getting romantically involved with somebody who has a partner.

BY LIAM CREEDON

OFF the north-east tip of Scotland, Shetland raises hairs on the neck of any seasoned birdwatcher.

These barren spits of land are hemmed in by the raging North Sea and left almost treeless by harsh Arctic winds. But during spring and autumn, birds rarely seen in mainland Britain can turn up on Shetland.

Made up from some 100 islands, the Shetland archipelago stretches 70 miles towards the Arctic. It is quicker to fly from London to Milan than to Sumburgh, the islands' tiny airport.

The Scandinavian influence is profound, from the residents' sing-song accents to the local

Welcome to a twitcher's paradise place names. Yell, Unst, Gutcher, Skaw and Noss sound more like the mating noises of amorous Vikings than islands or towns.

The capital, Lerwick, serves the vital fish and oil industries that dominate Shetland life.

In Lerwick's harbour we spied one reason why Shetland is renowned as a wildlife paradise. Bobbing alongside fishing boats was a pair of black guillemots – rare on the mainland but ten-a-penny on Shetland.

The land is magically free of the noise that dominates the mainland, with the fluting calls of moorland birds and the mournful wailing of curlews creating a constant, tuneful backdrop.

After sampling locally-caught fish at haunted Busta House Hotel we headed by boat for Unst at Shetland's northern tip to Muckle Flugga – the UK's most northerly lighthouse.

The isolated rocky coast is a magnet for seabirds. Puffins whizzed past our tiny boat, while black guillemots, known locally as tysties, and razorbills clattered into the sea.

Back on dry land, we walked to the edge of the sea-cliffs on the Hermaness nature reserve for a different perspective on Shetland's nesting seabirds.

The great skua is known to birders across the UK by its Shetland name – bonxie – the ASBO kid of the bird world.

We tried to work out the safe distance to stand to watch a female on her nest.

In seconds she turned a coal-black eye on us, screamed and launched off the ground. Suddenly the air was a rush of talons, feathers and the screams of terrified tourists.

We retreated to the cliff-edge to watch the more friendly puffins feeding their young.

"Ladies and gentlemen, killer whales!" said our guide, Brydon Thomason, drawing our attention to the vast, flat expanse of the North Sea beyond the cliff-edge.

Looking through Brydon's telescope, I could see about nine killer whales dipping and shying into the waves.

The sight was electrifying – to witness huge predators in their element was extraordinary, typifying what a trip to Shetland is all about.

We retreated to sample more local seafood, swilled down with Shetland beer from the Valhalla Brewery on Unst.

Tourism on Shetland feels like an afterthought, with a lack of quality restaurants and accommodation, but the incredible natural spectacle on offer makes this a world-class tourist destination in its own right.

Travel details

The Shetland Isles have a population of around 22,000. Located more than 200 miles off the north-east coast of Scotland, Shetland is closer to the Faroe Islands and is part of the division between the North Sea and the Atlantic Ocean.

Liam Creedon flew with Atlantic Airways, which operates a twice-weekly summer service (Friday and Monday) to Sumburgh from Stansted. Return fares this year started at £167.

He stayed at Busta House Hotel, in Brae – a waterside hotel dating back to 1588 – the former RAF radar station Saxa Vord and Bressay Lighthouse.

PROPERTY NEWS

Who's online checking the cost of your home?

DESPITE tumbling house values, people across the UK are obsessed by the cost of real estate, according to a recent survey. And the ready availability of property news across the internet is one of the ways people fuel their obsession.

Almost seven in 10 look at property online, even when they are not in the market to move house, the study found.

The poll also revealed 12 per cent of homeowners confessed they used the internet to check the value of property belonging to friends and neighbours.

On average, five per cent said they wanted to know what colleagues' homes were worth, too.

Those aged 25 to 34 were the most fixated on property prices, with eight in ten regularly looking at homes for sale even if they had no intention to buy.

They were also the nosiest age group, with more than one in six (17 per cent) checking the price of friends' homes and one in eight (13 per cent) investigating colleagues' properties.

In this age group, 63 per cent said they looked out of curiosity, while 29 per cent wanted to gauge a good time to move.

The survey of 1,399 subjects by an independent research company found on average people spent 55 minutes per month looking online at property.

The poll also found one in 10 logged on to see how their house was doing in investment terms.

HCA initiative aims to get investors onboard

THE Homes and Communities Agency (HCA) has set up a new initiative to encourage investors such as pension funds into the private rented sector.

The Private Rented Sector Initiative (PRSI) aims to provide an opportunity for low-risk investment.

It will target unsourced investors, such as overseas investors and pension funds, in a bid to "kick-start stalled schemes and lead to a significant increase in high-quality new homes for rent".

Sir Bob Kerslake, chief executive of the agency, said: "To date, achieving scale has been one of the main barriers to attracting institutional investors into the housing sector.

"We believe there is an opportunity now for the HCA to work with developers and housebuilders to offer a pipeline of projects for the PRSI, which could eventually result in a positive outcome for all stakeholders."

Homes more affordable for UK first-time buyers

■ BY NICK AMES

HOME affordability for first-time buyers – known as FTBs – has improved "substantially" since 2007, according to the Halifax review of the market.

This takes into account the prospects of people who are looking to join the first rung of the housing ladder in the next month or so.

The survey was released earlier this month and is seen as a key barometer of how the market is looking.

It examined the average earnings and the average cost of first-time homes in areas, dividing them up by local authority.

It found that the number of areas where the average price paid by an FTB was affordable increased to 21 per cent.

This compared with just six per cent in the third quarter of 2007.

Therefore the number of local authorities in the UK where housing was affordable to FTBs more than trebled in the last 18 months, with the house-price-to-earnings ratio now lower than it has been for six years, down 26 per cent since the summer of 2007.

The proportion of disposable income used to pay for a mortgage also decreased, which the Halifax attributed to falling house prices teamed with low interest rates.

Improvement

Martin Ellis, housing economist at Halifax, said: "There has been a marked improvement in housing affordability for potential first-time buyers in many parts of the UK over the past 18 months.

"This trend continued in the first three months of 2009. The significant reductions in house prices, relative to average earnings, has resulted largely from the decline in house prices since the autumn of 2007.

"As a result, housing is at its most affordable, on this key measure, for more than six years."

Despite the improvement in affordability, the number of FTBs is still at a very low level, according to the survey.

And although things are set to get better, according to analysts who have studied the recent trends, this may not be for some time.

Mr Ellis added: "Conditions in the housing market are likely to be tough during the rest of 2009 despite improvements in affordability.

"Increasing unemployment, low consumer confidence and the effects of the continuing dislocation of the financial markets on the availability of mortgage finance are all likely to exert downward pressure on the market.

"House prices are expected to decline again in 2009. Prospective first-time buyers should factor the likelihood of further house price falls into their calculations when deciding whether or not to buy."

ON THE UP: Falling house prices mean first-time buyers now have a good chance of getting on the property ladder

*With flyingstart your new home is 100% yours but you pay for just 75% of the cost now. Our L.F.A. can help arrange a 75% LTV mortgage and we'll lend you the outstanding 25% balance rent-free for up to 10 years, that counts as your deposit. After 10 years, or when you sell your home, you simply pay back the 25% balance of your homes' market value at that time. Typical example: Purchase price: £99,995. You initially pay just 75%: £74,995. Pay no rent or interest on the other 25% until the 10th anniversary of the purchase or subsequent re-sale, whichever occurs earlier. *Offer is available on selected apartments for a limited period subject to agreement and contract, terms and conditions apply. The availability of any incentive is strictly subject to utilising the services of a Fairview approved L.F.A. and panel solicitor/licenced conveyancer. Offer not in conjunction with any other incentive. Mortgage rates are approximate only based on an interest only loan of £74,995 at 5.19% APR fixed for 2 years. Please check with your L.F.A. for a mortgage offer that suits your circumstances. Please note you will have to pay your own arrangement fees. Rental price quoted is the average rent of a 1 bedroom apartment in Faversham, taken from www.findaproperty.com on 20/04/09. Challenge comparison excludes any government funded schemes and you must be able to qualify for a mortgage. Prices correct at time of publication. Photography of Arterra.

MOTORS NEWS

Motoring icon plans a big 50th birthday party

MINI fans globally are celebrating the motoring icon's 50th birthday.

The very first car, a Mini Minor in Old English White, is on display at the original plant in Cowley, Oxford – home to the modern day Mini re-created by BMW. Cowley produced Minis from 1959 to 1968, before production of the original switched to Longbridge, Birmingham.

There will also be a birthday festival at the Silverstone race circuit from May 22-24, featuring a line-up of bands and other entertainment.

Big savings to be made with scrap happy deals

VAUXHALL – one the UK motor market's big hitters – has waded into the battle for scrappage deals.

On top of the Government-backed £2,000 grant available to buyers eligible to scrap their old car in exchange for a new one, Vauxhall is offering extra cash/cash-backs and zero per cent finance in certain cases. A British-built Astra Life 1.4 hatchback, for instance qualifies for a total saving of £5,870, while the sought after Corsa (pictured) supermini range qualifies for nought per cent finance for three years.

Citroën's surefooted recession-buster MPV

FOR motorists wrong-footed by recession, Citroën says it offers a "surefooted response" – the Nemo Multispace.

This capacious 60+mpg, sub £10,000 family recession-buster MPV emits just 119g/km in CO2 emissions and comes with a further sweetener: would-be customers can part exchange their pre-2000 registered car through Citroën's £2,000 'Scrappage Incentive' and drive away a new Nemo for just £7,995. There is just the choice of a 1.4-litre petrol or diesel engine and one generous trim level.

OUT ON ITS OWN: It's wrong to pitch the Epica against the more upmarket Vauxhall Insignia, but rather should be judged against rivals such as the Dodge Avenger and Kia Magentis

Chevy's epic proportions hide some epic surprises

CHEVY'S family car contender matches its name – the Epica has epic proportions and surprises in equal measure.

At first glance it seems a ponderous and clumsily finished 'Yank Tank', but closer inspection shows it is better than that and, like all Chevys for the UK, comes from Korea.

The big surprise is handling. The Epica is some way from the classic big Yank 'sedan' that corners like a spongy bedstead. It can still deliver the comfort preferred by the US market, but makes a decent fist of country lanes even if it will never be a sportster.

In any case, with list prices from just above £14,000 – and local dealers have new cars available for less than 11 – it is wrong to pitch the Chevy against the state-of-the-art Ford Mondeo or the Epica's more upmarket General Motors' stablemate, the Vauxhall Insignia.

Instead, it should be judged and voted tops against other US and Korean rivals such as the Chrysler Sebring and Dodge Avenger and the Kia Magentis and Hyundai Sonata.

Don't bother with the six-cylinder 2.0-litre petrol entry option though – most buyers go for the four-pot 2.0-litre diesel tested here.

It is smooth with the low and mid-range punch needed for this big wagon and yet impressively economical, making the car a favourite with taxi operators and the caravan set, rather than image-conscious private buyers and company car executives.

Cabin quality is better than small Chevys on the market and even quite luxurious, with a functional layout. Leather seats on our flagship LT model felt smart and comfortable with rear passengers getting acres of space and a sizeable armrest to lounge against. It is a bit like taking your sofa on the road and only seems to be lacking a drink cabinet.

The seat backs also flop forward to allow long items to be carried, though the boot itself is immense.

In Chevy fashion, standard kit is generous: junior LS trim brings air con, cruise control, electric windows all round, alloys, leather covered steering wheel, powered mirrors and an MP3 sound input. My main complaint was the slightly vague five-speed manual gearbox on the diesel test car – the six-speed auto 'box could be the better buy.

USED CAR ROUND-UP: OUR PICK FROM A KEY SECTOR

CONVERTIBLES

OPEN-TOP motors are a good way to dispel the gloom of recession and prices have eased too as some hard-pressed buyers seek to liquidate rolling assets. That extends even to the growing breed of folding hardtop or 'coupé convertible' (CC) models that offer better looks and security. This week's used buys feature two of this type, but also check out the Mazda MX-5, available in classic ragtop or CC format and the car that did more than any other to make Britain a top market for convertibles – despite the weather.

MAZDA MX-5

NOW into its third generation, the original MX-5 was inspired by classic British Triumph, MG and Lotus sports cars and given Japanese reliability. Sometimes criticised for a lack of outright power, the MX-5 is more famous for its beautifully balanced handling. Models hold their value well, although an influx of 'Eunos' used imports from Japan drove down prices for the Lotus-lookalike MkI and the latest MkIII offers beefier looks and the most creature comforts, if you can stretch the budget.

VAUXHALL ASTRA

VAUXHALL surprised everybody with the success of the original Astra convertible and followed up with the brilliant Astra TwinTop – the name inspired by the electronic folding metal roof. Both four-seaters are good looking with roof up or down and the TwinTop is a particularly good achievement when so many of its coupé convertible rivals look ungainly or 'boot heavy'. As with many 'chopped' hatchback convertibles, there is some body flex on both models, but don't let this break a deal.

PEUGEOT 206CC

MERCEDES pioneered new generation folding metal roof convertibles with the SLK in the 1990s, but Peugeot brought the type to the mass market with the big-selling and plentiful 206CC. Based on the French marque's 206 hatchback and biggest seller ever, the 206CC even had two seats in the back although it should never be considered anything more than a 2+2. While relatively affordable, there have also been reliability problems with the temperamental roof mechanism.

Resident Involvement Manager
Based in Sevenoaks and Swanley. Job Ref: KOS/WKE020
Spot Salary £28,520 pa 37 hours a week
West Kent Extra (WKE) is a thriving community development charity based in Sevenoaks and working with communities in west Kent and beyond. We are a subsidiary of West Kent Housing Association, one of the UK's leading housing providers.
The national agenda on resident involvement is changing, with the formation of the Tenant Services Authority (TSA) and a move towards resident-led self-regulation.
We are looking for someone who understands these changes and will work with our staff and tenants to ensure we make positive changes to the way we work.
We have a proud tradition of resident involvement work and this is a great opportunity for you to join an established and successful housing association, as part of our Operational Management Team.
You should have a passion for working with tenants and customers and the drive and commitment to ensure they are able to influence and engage with us, in a positive and productive way.
You will be an excellent communicator able to connect with a range of tenants, staff and partner agencies to promote the value of resident involvement.
You should be able to work well on your own initiative, contribute to an existing team and be prepared to go the extra mile to ensure customer satisfaction.
You will need to have a driving licence and access to a vehicle for business use. The post includes an Essential Car Users Allowance and is subject to an enhanced CRB check.

Personal Assistant to the Principal & Chief Executive

Circa £30,000 plus final salary pension, generous leave and benefits

MidKent College is moving into an exciting phase in the history of the College with the relocation from the Horsted and City Way campuses to a stunning new £86m new build located at Lower Lines, Chatham in September this year. Combining this move with the recent award of the Public Private Partnership contract for the Royal School of Military Engineering at Brompton Barracks and the planned development of the existing Maidstone campus, it is a hectic time for the College. MidKent College now has an annual turnover of £45m, a staff of over 1,000 and trains around 12,000 students and 3,000 soldiers each year.

The ideal candidate will therefore be joining during a period of significant change with the opportunity to develop your career within this stimulating environment. You will already have direct experience of working for a senior manager and be fully familiar with the demands and rewards of working at this level.

Reporting directly for and supporting the Principal and Chief Executive, you will hold a position of responsibility, developing strong working relationships with the Directors, Senior Leadership Team, Governors and external Stakeholders involved across the MidKent College Group.

Interested: Please forward your CV to ken.pullan@midkent.ac.uk or call him on 07725 128661 (after 12th May) for an informal discussion.

Mote were out-glassed by Court

A CENTURY from Aaron Glass helped inflict a massive nine wicket defeat on The Mote 2nd XI in the 2nd XI Premier League.

The Mote secured a healthy total of 205-8 from their allotted 50 overs, but a devastating display with the bat from Gore Court condemned Maidstone to a heavy defeat. Paul Geary's (76) put Court in a good position, but Glass was the star hitting 115 runs from 114 balls.

Mote's bowlers get their side off to a flyer

THE Mote's bowlers proved to be the difference between the two sides as they helped secure a 64 run victory on the opening day of the cricket season.

The Maidstone side, who finished third in the league last season, batted first and opener's Matthew White and Tom Harvey made the most of their chance, putting on 77 for the first wicket.

Daniel Thirkell (30), Glen Aukett (39) and Laurence Waters (20) kept the score ticking over as The Mote rolled towards 187 all out. Folkestone's bowlers struggled, with only Sher Khanagha providing significant trouble for The Mote. He was the pick of the bowlers for Folkestone, taking three for 23.

Folkestone's batsmen found the going difficult in their bid to chase down the score. The Mote's bowlers, particularly Waters and Aukett, who took four wickets-a-piece, made Folkestone's task all the more difficult. Aukett finished with figures of four for 25.

Stewart Graham proved to be Folkestone's best batsmen on the day, scoring 35 before The Mote rattled through the tail in the evening. Folkestone were eventually bowled out for just 123 after 34.2 overs, leaving them 64 runs short of victory.

KENT LEAGUE DIVISION FOUR

Ashford Town 3rd XI v Addington Village 1st XI

ASHFORD Town suffered a heavy defeat at the hands of Addington Village in their first game in Division Four.

Addington were just too strong for the home side and posted an impressive total of 331-3 from their 50 overs with Neil Scott scoring 129. In reply, Ashford struggled to get into a rhythm and they were bowled out for just 128 with Neil Scott capping the win off with bowling figures of three for nought.

Offham 1st XI v Betteshanger Colliery Welfare

LEONARD Watt and Jamie Towe were the stars of the show in an entertaining Division Five encounter at Offham.

Offham batted first and made a promising start with Leonard Watt hitting 119, but he was the only batsmen, who provided any resistance to Jamie Towe who took seven for 54. Betteshanger couldn't match Offham's total in reply, posting 220-9 to clinch a losing draw.

KENT FEEDER LEAGUE WEST 1B

Leybourne 1st XI v Wilmington 1st XI

DANIEL Bowman's knock of 86 helped Leybourne set up a 29-run victory against Wilmington.

Leybourne batted first and were struggling until Bowman came to the crease. He hit 11 fours and two sixes on his way to 86, when his wicket was taken by Tim Cotton.

Wilmington eventually bowled Leybourne out for 216, but the total proved too much for the visitors to chase down.

Golf stars to tee off at Tudor Park this summer

ON COURSE: Tudor Park Golf Club (pictured) is almost ready to host its biggest event for five years this summer

PREPARATIONS are already underway at Kent's Tudor Park Golf course ahead of their biggest event for five years this summer.

The golf course, near Maidstone, is due to host the Virgin Atlantic Classic EuroPro Tour golf tournament in August, attracting around 150 up-and-coming golfers from across Europe.

The tour, which feeds into the European Tour and PGA Tour, has produced a number of top professional golfers, including Ryder Cup star Lee Westwood. It will be the first time the Maidstone golf course has hosted an event of this magnitude since 2004.

Head professional Jason Muller said: "It is a massive event for the club. With the sponsorship we have attracted from Virgin Atlantic, we are expecting a big turn out and a whole host of celebrities taking part in a pro-am in the week of the event."

Work has already begun perfecting the course for the competition and the Tudor Park course professional believes it will provide a challenge for the best golfers.

The tournament will be the second EuroPro Tour event in the county this year, with Prince's Golf Club in Sandwich hosting a round in June.

The Virgin Atlantic Classic begins on August 4.

Could village plans bring Stones back into town?

FOOTBALL

■ BY TOM HOWARD

MAIDSTONE United chairman Paul Bowden-Brown is looking into the possibility of building a sports village in a bid to bring the football club back to the county town.

The Ryman Premier League club have been trying to relocate back to Maidstone since its reformation in 1992, with the Stones forced to groundshare at Sittingbourne's Bourne Park for the last seven years.

At the moment, the club are hoping to raise £750,000 to complete their new stadium at James Whatman Way after a grant bid to the Football Foundation failed last year.

The chairman's latest venture to move the club to Maidstone is to look into the possibility of following Ashford Town's plans to build a sports village. The Ryman South club are hoping to incorporate a fitness centre, tennis centre and a budget hotel into their Homelands Stadium to help make the club sustainable.

Bowden-Brown told Yourmaidstone: "It is an option I am looking at. In these times it is very difficult for football clubs to survive with gates down and the current economic climate. Football clubs need other revenue streams and this is why I am looking at perhaps building a sports village."

"It is just an idea I am looking at at the

NEW IDEA: Stones chairman Paul Bowden-Brown is looking into building a sports village, but intends to extend the club's agreement to play their home games at Sittingbourne next season while he works to make the plans a reality moment, that is all. It would mean we may have to move away from James Whatman Way. We all know how difficult it is to find sites in the Maidstone area so it may not be viable."

Rumours linking the club with a possible groundshare with Ryman South side Ashford Town next season have been dispelled by the Stones' chairman.

With the agreement to play their home games at Sittingbourne ending last season, Bowden-Brown is hoping to extend the arrangement for the next campaign.

He said: "People have been saying we are looking at sharing with Ashford Town, but it is all speculation. I have been in contact with Ashford chairman Don Crosbie, but it was only to talk about his sports village plans."

"I will be meeting with Sittingbourne chairman Andy Spice this week and hopefully we will come to an arrangement to keep the club playing at Bourne Park."

CUP GLORY: Maidstone won the Kent Cup for a second time in a nine-goal thriller

Ladies land Kent Cup for second season

Maidstone ladies 5

Holcombe ladies 4

A HAT-TRICK from Sue Leaning helped Maidstone ladies 1st XI clinch the Kent Cup in a nine-goal thriller against Holcombe on Sunday.

Maidstone started brightly and won a penalty early on which was converted by Laura Thompson and she added a second goal minutes later. Leaning grabbed her first of the afternoon to give Maidstone a three-goal cushion, but on the stroke of half-time Holcombe pulled a goal back.

Holcombe were fired up for the second half and levelled the game with two quick-fire goals. However, neither side could find a breakthrough and extra time was needed.

The tie was settled by Leaning, who scored twice to complete her hat-trick. Holcombe pulled a goal back late on, but it was too little too late.
